

Make a Circle of Friendship

Dear super Earthie friend,

Wowee-zowee, you're an Earthie who I'd love having for a friend! You are a true friend when you think about your friend's feelings as well as your own feelings.

If I were going to tell someone about the kind of friend you are, I imagine I'd say fabberful things like, the way you're thoughtful and sharing and fun to be with just being yourself!

Madame DuFairy was teaching our Friendship Magic class at Real Fairyversity last week. For homework, she said, "Have a party, inviting old friends and new friends.

Report on your growing circle of friends next week!" Now that's homework any fairy likes! So I thought of a Sleepover where you fly in wearing your pajamas!

I invited old friends and some new ones who I don't really hang out with at school. I wondered if the new friends would come!

Would they like me? What would we talk about?

When all the friends came, it was easy to talk. They told about how fairies laughed seeing them fly here in their pajamas!

I showed them my favorite stuff. When I wrote my school report on my circle of friends, I realized that new friends had become old friends and my circle had grown!

Keep growing your circle of friends!

With love,

Brigitte
